

Paper Plate Collar

Choose a plain paper plate of dinner plate size, preferably one with a definite rim. If the rim is already fluted or embossed this will help in the decoration. Cut the plate in half and cut out the central section as indicated (figure 1) to get a semi-circular section (figure 2). Decorate the underside of the rim to look like a multi-coloured faience collar, using crayons, felt pens or paints. Punch a hole at either end and thread with cords or yarn to tie the collar around your neck (figure 3).

← Figure 1: cut plate along black lines

Figure 2: →
Underside of rim, pierced for threading and ready for decoration

← Figure 3: Finished
collar

Here is Sennefer, the Mayor of Thebes. →
He wears armlets on his upper arms and bracelets at his wrists. Over a broad jewelled collar he wears a double strand necklace of gold beads, a mark of honour awarded to him for good service to his king. He also wears golden earrings and a pair of heart amulets as a pendant on a cord or chain. He holds a posy of lotus flowers (water lilies) in one hand and his official staff in the other.

